Re: Kelly Woo Letter of Recommendation

Dear Sir/Madam:

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of endorsement to encourage you to consider Kelly Woo for the CalCPA Women to Watch for 2019 award as an experienced leader.

I am honored to work closely with Kelly providing wealth building opportunities for high-net-worth investors seeking to diversify their portfolios in alternative investments with real estate. She is a consummate professional. She is dedicated, trustworthy and hard-working advisor who cares about her clients and passionate about educating them and other professionals with financial resources about financial planning, building wealth and capital preservation strategies. The strategies she presents are innovative, trailblazing and positions herself as a thought leader within the financial services industry.

Her role as educator extends beyond her clients, but deep into the community as well. She values the opportunity to share her experience and knowledge. She is an advocate for mentoring through various avenues. Kelly authors articles on topics that answers questions investors have about their wealth situations and, at our request, she recently presented in Phoenix at several events. These events range from women's financial/CPA association to private real estate investment seminars. She was also featured on the national business talk show, DASH Radio, with 10 million subscribers.

In addition to her impressive portfolio of professional accomplishments, Kelly is a good person that you want around you. She is generous to her employees, honest and puts the needs of others first. I am honored to work alongside her to help bring solutions to her clients' financial issues.

I wholeheartedly recommend Kelly Woo for this experience leader award from your organization. Please feel free to contact me if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,
